PAPER SALVAGE DRIVE IN LOCAL ZONES TOPS THAT EXPECTED SAYS CHAIRMAN

"The paper drive," announces Mrs. C. W. Early, a member of the Orthopedic Hospital Fund Steering committee, "has far exceeded expectations of the collectors in zones six and seven. We are especially pleased with efforts of the school children, who have worked hard. We also want people to save their papers in anticipation of our next drive. The Mission Beach pickup is planned for zones eight and nine to be on November 18."

The pickup in zones six and seven was accomplished on Monday, Nov. 11. The contents are to be sold to swell the hospital salvage fund, which has as its ultimate goal a bed in the hospital for a crippled child, reports Mrs. Early.

Pointers Trounce Coronado, 32 to 0; Escondido Next

Having easily swept Coronado aside 32 to 0 on the local field Friday, the Pointers of Point Loma high school have only Escondido left in their path to the championship crown of the high school Metropolitan football league for this season.

The Pointers will clash this (Friday) afternoon with the Escondido Cougars on the latter's gridiron, with a battle royal in prospect.

In the Coronado game last Friday the Pointers were on top throughout the entire game. They scored two touchdowns in the third quarter and one each in each of the other quarters. They started the scoring early in the first quarter on a sensational 52-yard forward pass and lateral play. Jim Jensen shot a short overhead pass to Dave Finster who in turn lateraled the ball to Don Jones on the Coronado 40 and Jones scampered all the way to pay dirt. The other Pointer touchdowns were scored by Finster, Manuel Andrade, Manuel Silva and Bob Mellison, each one counter. Paul Kaneyuki scored the two extra points made following touchdowns.

Point Loma now tops the league with four games won and one tied, with 62 points total scored and only 12 points racked up against them in their five league games played.

Econdido is in second place with three games won, two lost, 93 points total scored and 52 points scored by their opponents against them.

The other teams now rank in the following order:

La Jolla, Grossmont, Kearny, Sweetwater, Oceanside and Coronado.

Cougars Barely Win

In last Friday's games, the Escondidio Cougars had a close call with Sweetwater, winning by a narrow margin of 7 to 0. Grossmont trounced Kearny 31 to 0 and La Jolla defeated Oceanside 22 to 0.

TWO MARINES PUT ON BATTLE ON NEWPORT AVE. ON ARMISTICE HOLIDAY

Two San Diego Marines evidently missed the import of Armistice day when they engaged in a miniature war on Newport Ave. at Bacon St. Monday night. Atom bombs, however, were not used. Instead a bottle is reported by Police Patrolman B. G. Wright as the principal weapon wielded during the fracas.

According to the patrolman's report Marine Sgt. Robert McCullough, 27, suffered lacerations about the head that necessitated treatment at the Naval hospital. Eugene Moore, 24, also a Marine, was arrested at the scene by Patrolman Wright and was booked on suspicion of having committed assault with a deadly weapon.

Sgt. McCullough was quoted as saying the fight started when he was walking along the street and was greeted by Moore with a request that he give his rating. McCullough said that when he refused to answer he was slugged.

Kiwanians Regale Each Other With Autobiographies

Brief autobiographies, mostly in jocular vein, by all the members present, was the highlight of an impromptu program presented at Tuesday night's meeting of the local Kiwanis club, held at the Woman's clubhouse. Dave Chandler officiated as program chairman, and added to the fun by circulating among the members and humorously introducing each.

While several of the members mentioned that they are native sons of California by far the largest number of the group gave other states, such as Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Kansas, North Dakota, Missouri and Tennessee, as their native states.

Frank B. McElwee laid claim to having lived the longest in Ocean Beach. He said he came here 40 years ago. He also gave an interesting account of the establishment of both the Ocean Beach Elementary school and the Point Loma high school.

Announcement was made at the business session of charter night to be held at Carlsbad for the newly organized Carlsbad Kiwanis club, and of the annual Ocean Beach Kiwanis golf tournament, this year to be held at the La Mesa Country club course Sunday, November 24.

Ed Griswold of the San Diego Kiwanis club was a visitor here Tuesday night.

City Council Files Letter From C. of C. On Fishing Pier

Indicating somewhat the extent of the problem to obtain from the city the funds needed for completion of the fishing pier at the foot of Del Monte Ave. is the following self-explanatory letter the local Chamber of Commerce received this week from Fred W. Sick, city clerk:

Nov. 8, 1946

O. B. Chamber of Commerce,
Gentlemen:

"Your letter of Oct. 31 regarding the status of the municipal fishing pier at the end of Del Monte Ave., was presented to the city council at its meeting this week, and ordered filed.

"The city manager's report to the council, on the letter of James Grigsby, to which you referred, states that he attempted to get moneys for the purpose from the Camp Callan funds, but the city attorney ruled that a transfer of that money would be illegal. He states further that with the demand for many necessary improvements, he is unable to see how any funds for completing the pier can be provided for at least two years. He also says that the council does not have within its power to formulate a definite plan of action for construction of the pier because it cannot bind future councils to follow present policies."

The above reply letter was read at the special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors held Wednesday afternoon.

CHI OMEGA ALUMNAE MEET AT HOME OF MRS. SWOBODA; PLAN TO WRAP YULE GIFTS

PETTY CRIME WAVE IN LOMA PORTAL SECTION BELIEVED TO BE SOLVED

The petty crime wave which has swept the Loma Portal area in recent weeks appeared to have been solved last week with the discovery of a large quantity of stolen loot in a heating unit compartment in the Frontier housing project.

The discovery came about after one of the young vandals returned to the cache and, finding some children playing in the compartment, chased them away at gun point. The children informed their parents who called police. One of the children recognized the young gunman, a 14-year-old resident of Frontier. He has been missing from his home since the incident, the police report. They said Thursday they believe there are about eight youths in all involved in the thefts, most of whom are thus far in hiding or missing.

Rain, Wind and High Tides Visit Local Area During Week

The Ocean Beach community was buffeted by the worst storm of the season this week and the latter part of last week. The climax of the storm occurred Wednesday afternoon when rain of near-cloudburst proportions turned many of the local streets into pseudo-rivers.

A record seven foot, four inch tide lashed the beach areas and sprayed beach houses, but caused negligible damage. Winds reached 27-mile-an-hour heights but the 60-mile-an-hour gale which was expected to strike Wednesday dissipated itself at sea. Small craft warnings were substituted for storm warnings after the high wind failed to materialize.

A peak of the local excitement over the storm was reached Monday afternoon when a crowd assembled at the foot of Hill St. in the Sunset Cliffs section to watch possible rescue proceedings for nine fishermen in a motor boat who had displayed flares for help when their motor went dead and they figured they were in danger of being dashed on to the rocks there. Two crews of local lifeguards speeded to the scene. However, the crew got the motor going again and were later rescued by the coast guard near the point.

Over an inch of rain fell in the four-day period ending Wednesday night, bringing the season's total to over two inches, compared to a normal 1.01 inches for this time of year. Another heavy rain fell here Thursday morning adding another half inch of water.

High tides coupled with calm surf during the week afforded exceptional opportunities to Ocean Beach surf board enthusiasts, who braved chill winds and 66 degree water to enjoy their sport.

CABRILLO MONUMENT ON POINT LOMA OPENED TO VISITORS ARMISTICE DAY

A large crowd of sightseers this week visited the historic old Spanish lighthouse at Cabrillo National monument on Point Loma. The monument was opened to the public Monday for the first time since May, 1941, except for several one-day periods during the war years. About 12,000 visited the monument Armistice day.

The site is within the confines of Ft. Rosecrans and is still under army supervision, although the plan is to turn the area back to the national park service soon.

Col. Fred B. Waters, commanding officer of Ft. Rosecrans, has asked that visitors to the monument refrain from taking pictures and cooperate in preventing fires, as a definite fire hazard exists.

GIRL SCOUTS REPORT ON CALENDAR SALE DRIVE

Reports were submitted by the members of Girl Scout troop 127 as to their calendar sale at the meeting Wednesday at the Log Hut. The girls are selling the calendars to raise money for Christmas and the troop selling the most will be awarded a prize. So far, Esther Jane Lustig, Shirley Ann Bamford and Mary Caroline Ward are leading the others in calendar sales for their troop. Plans also were made for an outing in Presidio Park on November 23, with Sandra Getz to be in charge of the food for the picnic. The girls discussed the possibility of dressing in the costumes of Norway and Mexico for the Christmas pageant to which the parents are invited.

Children's Book Week (Nov. 10-16) at the Ocean Beach public library, this week features a brightly colored display of book jackets and autumn leaf cut-outs. Decorating the sunny children's room of the branch library here, the special display pointed out the theme of this year's Children's Book Week—Books Are Bridges—by showing how reading provides access for youngsters to the lives and customs of children in other lands, to the wonders of science and industry, and to the fun of just good story-telling.

Miss Francis McLeod of 640 Silver Gate Ave., Point Loma, has loaned a unique doll to the children's room for its book week display at the San Diego public library this week. This doll, named Madam Pouf, is the principal character in a children's book named, "Ragman of Paris and His Ragamuffins," and was given to Miss McLeod by Elizabeth Orton Jones, the author. The book is also on display at the library.

C. of C. Contracts For Yule Street Decorations Here

COMMITTEE PLANS TO HAVE LAMP POSTS DRESSED BY DEC. 7

By action of the board of directors, in special session Wednesday afternoon, the local Chamber of Commerce decided to contract with the Winsett Display Manufacturing Co. of San Diego for Christmas decorations for Newport Ave. A poinsetta candle design decorations was contracted for to be installed on the lamp posts. In the three blocks of Newport Ave. from Sunset Cliffs to Abbott St. there are 31 of these posts to be decorated, Chairman Arnold Morss of the committee reported. Some decoration of the side streets off Newport also is included in the plan to dress up the local business district, he said.

Chairman Morss reported that the survey carried on by the committee found the merchants generally enthusiastic about having the district decorated for the Christmas season. The committee decided, in view of the general response, that the cost to the business houses could be held down to 60 cents a front foot on Newport Ave. and 30 cents a front foot for those on the side streets. The contract calls for a payment of $37 per unit for each of the 31 posts to be decorated.

A 25-foot Christmas tree to be decorated by the local American Legion post and placed on the parking lot of the local Safeway store also is included in the plans, Chairman Morss reported.

According to the terms of the contract the decorations are to be installed by December 7 and to remain in place until at least December 31.

Serving on the committee with Morss are Milt Lancaster, Col. R. W. Shaw, Henry Voss, Mel Bergstrom, Mrs. Ruth Anderson, T. C. Bates, James Waggoner, Bill Bailey, Tony Matovich, Gene Henderson and Clyde A'Neals.

Lions Hear Reports Of Committee Heads

Committee reports from Chairman A. G. Bruce of the civic improvement committee and Chairman H. C. Hollobaugh of the international relations committee featured the meeting yesterday (Thursday) noon of the Ocean Beach Lions club. Bruce reported progress of his committee in a plan to provide trash receptacles at bus transfer points in the Ocean Beach area. Text of a telegram sent to United Nations delegates from the local club was included in Hollobaugh's report.

Jim Sharman, owner of a new flower shop on Newport Ave., was introduced as a guest by Vice-President Marc Strauss who presided at the session in the absence of President Bill Stone.

Other business transacted by members included passage of a resolution proposed by A. C. Bruce and recommending strong support by Ocean Beach civic groups of the Mission Bay Development project.

Story of Local Boy Jumping Off Cliff May Prove a Hoax

Mystery still surrounds the fate of a 16-year-old Dana Junior high school boy who was reported to have leaped off the cliffs into the ocean at the foot of Hill St. Friday morning, during the height of the recent storm.

The Ocean Beach police station reports that the boy is still missing from his home. An intensive search of the beach area at the foot of the cliffs by Ocean Beach police and lifeguards has yielded no trace of the boy or his body. A pile of clothing found at the edge of the cliff and a telephone call to the police from an unidentified person reporting that someone had leaped from the cliff gave impetus to the suicide theory after the youth had been reported missing.

After finding no trace of the body, however, and discovering that a second suit of clothing, in addition to those found on the cliff, was missing from the boy's home, police have discredited the suicide theory and report there is a probability that boy has staged a hoax and merely run away from home

"SOUND OFF"

Question: What do you think of socialized medicine?

"The reason I'm in favor of socialized medicine is because it would get medical attention to a greater number of people in the under-paid brackets. There are thousands of people who need operations but are not able to afford them and these people should have equal chances of medical attention with the higher salaried groups."—Red Malcolm, Red's Auto Home Supply.

"I had a taste of socialized medicine as practiced in the army and our orders came through from the Surgeon General's office—no deviation was permitted at any time. If private medicine is practiced as army medicine was dispensed, we will have no advancement in medicine. People will not accept or tolerate that type of medical treatment. They expect a luxury type of medicine—the best you can give them, a personalized brand of medicine that socialized medicine will not permit."—Dr. John S. Martin.

"In the countries where socialized medicine has been practiced medicine has fallen back at least 10 years from the American standard."—Dr. John W. Wilhoit.

"Industry, during war years, spent millions of dollars on accident prevention education and guards for machinery because statistics proved that it saved money by spending money for that purpose since the resulting extra production made this well worth while. By this same token why wouldn't nationwide better health, resulting from socialized medicine be a worthy investment of the American people for the American people?"—Norman H. O'Reilly, Musician.

"I think individually socialized medicine might be alright but professionally it would limit the progress of the medical profession since progress thrives on competition."—Mrs. A. Dumont, housewife.

How 9,000 new jobs were born

To grow with the West... to build and maintain the finest possible telephone service for you . . . a good sized army of men and women is already at work, and more are pitching in every day. In the last five years, we have added more than 9,000 new employees—our total force is now more than 24,000.

It is our purpose to provide telephones for everyone who is waiting just as rapidly as we can and to build an ever-expanding, ever-improving service for the West. Our gross plant construction will aggregate $54,000,000 for this year and, as now visualized, it will exceed $75,000,000 for 1947. It's a big job, but you can be certain we're going ahead fast.

Today, telephone calls in Southern California have reached a record high of 7,400,000 a day, and until we can get and install all the equipment we need there will sometimes be delays in service. We want you to know we will do our utmost to keep them at a minimum and to hurry the day when service will be even better than ever before.

An ever-improving telephone service at the least cost consistent with good wages and working conditions for our employees and a reasonable return to the thousands of people who have invested in the business.

class requirements. Gordon McClure and Burt Skinner have completed their first class requiremets.

The following boys will receive their "Star Scout Certificates" at the Court of Honor to be held this (Friday) evening at 7:30 at the George Dewey school: Zane Frentress, Verlyn Miller, Donald Vose and Ramon Vose. Cromer Hubbard will receive his "Life Scout" certificate.

Louis Bingham and Howard Mayfield will receive their "Eagle" badge and letter of congratulations from National headquarters, Boy Scouts of America in New York.

We sincerely thank the various Merit badge counsellors who have examined the boys and made these advancements possible. I would also like to thank the following members of the Troop committee for their support: A. J. Morss, chairman, Troop committee; T. C. Davidson, chairman, Board of Review; Ralph Chadwick, Dr. M. E. Harrington, Paul Campbell, Dick Hilmen, Fred Edwards. My assistants are Robert Brazell and Robert Allen.

—Carlton R. Bingham, Scoutmaster.

Scoutmaster Bingham stated Wednesday that tonight's Court of Honor, which is for the entire North Shore district and which will include all the Boy Scout troops in the district, is expected to be one of the largest thus far held by this district. The Court of Honor, he explains, is held only three times a year.

"NEEDLENOISE"

(By Art Sanders)

There were a couple of small logs burning in the fireplace, the chair was soooo comfortable, and the firelight was dancing and reflecting and chasing memories around the room . . . soon the rain was no longer beating on the roof and you weren't sitting before a warm fire, but thinking of "The Things We Did Last Summer." There was something bittersweet in stirring up a past that was over, yet ever present. Some nostalgia, tragedy, humor—and haziness—"The Things We Did Last Summer," Jo Stafford with Paul Weston and orchestra, and the reverse side, "You Keep Coming Back Like a Song." Capitol No. 297.

Capitol's pre-release sheet lists an album by Paul Weston called "Music for Memories." Typical of the eight numbers included are "Deep Purple" and "Blue Moon." Capitol is to be congratulated on their choice of tunes for the album. Too, too many albums have been released of late with virtually the same content. Capitol Album BD-37.

Just discovered a heckuva way to say "I Love You" to your best girl. Listen to Tex Beneke's "Woodchuck Song" and after a lot of beating around the bush the Crew Chiefs finally come out with those three words. Try that routine on someone—and be committed to an insane asylum.

Still more of this "mood music," "Searching Wind" with Dick Haymes handling the vocal chores in a rather unusual manner, way down in the lower register. This side you will either like or dislike violently! The flip-over is a better than average standard "Years and Years Ago." Decca 18920.

Passed by, brushed off, and otherwise ignored—"I Don't Stand a Ghost of a Chance with You" as played by Cozy Cole's All Stars is a better example of rebop or swing or jazz, as it should be played. Freedom of expression and feeling are all in it, yet it isn't a frenzied abortion of some familiar tune. This is still "Ghost of a Chance." Continental record No. C-6000. Flipover is "Look Here."

MOBILE HEAVY ARTILLERY might well be the label on this new piece of reserve transformer equipment. Actually a self-contained portable sub-station of 3,000 kva capacity the unit may be used anywhere on the system. It will be held in readiness to plug temporary outages in sub-stations serving large sections.

This winter, as the days grow shorter, and the uses of electricity increase, there is a possibility that the overloading of our electrical distribution system will cause service interruptions.

We have plenty of power to serve you; but it is regrettable that we have been unable to obtain sufficient material to improve and expand our distribution system. We had hoped to assure better service to our old electric customers as well as the 5,000 new customers who have been added to our lines since V-J Day.

Wires and transformers will carry only so much power. When that capacity is exceeded . . . a transformer fuse, or the whole transformer, may fail. This means that a whole area of homes may be without electricity.

We have laid careful plans to overcome these interruptions in service as quickly as possible. We have 13 repair trucks equipped with 2-way radios for just such emergencies. Transformer fuses will be quickly replaced and any minor repairs made. If a transformer station fails, the portable unit pictured above will be uses to substitute for it.

This is something that CAN and MAY happen this winter. We hope it doesn't. If it does, please be patient, for our crews will be doing their best to remedy the trouble as quickly as possible.

bowed heads a moment of silence in tribute to his memory.

Gordon Schneider was born in Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 1, 1892, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Schneider. He attended the elementary schools there and as a youth he came west with his parents to San Diego. He first attended Harvard Military school in Los Angeles and then the Pharmacy school of U. S. C., from which he graduated. He became partners with his father in the operation of a drug store in downtown San Diego. His interest included two stores on Fifth Ave., one at C St. and one at F St.

After several years, he sold his interest and moved to El Centro where he ran a drug store for about a year, then moving to Holtville, where he ran the Schneider drug store for 20 years. Selling that he came to Ocean Beach six years ago and in a new building constructed especially for a drug store at 4935 Newport Ave. he established the Ocean Beach store that bears his name.

Short of help, especially during the war years, he carried on the large and expanding businesss by overworking himself, his long hours gradually cutting down his resistance to illness. He made friends of everyone with whom he came in contact both in and out f the store. He had been an active member of Ocean Beach Kiwanis club for several years, also of the local Chamber of Commerce.

At Holtville he had served as president of the Rotary club and also as president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Imperial Valley. He also was a member of the Holtville Masonic lodge.

He was married to Dorothy Menz of Wichita, Kan., in Los Angeles in 1915. She and their son, Dr. Gordon F. Schneider, and one sister, Mrs. R. H. McGarvin of Los Angeles, are left to mourn. Dr. Schneider is a resident physician in the Ventura conuty hospital at Ventura, Calif., and his mother is living in Pacific Beach.

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I: Spratt Herlong was a major producer of motion pictures. He called Elizabeth, his wife, to join him at lunch. Elizabeth knew that something was not going right at the studio and that her husband desired her presence, more to talk to her than to receive any real assistance.

CHAPTER II: At the start of World War I, Elizabeth had married. Her husband soon sailed for France and later was reported killed in action. Spratt was her second husband. This memory always returned when she thought of Dick going to war.

CHAPTER III: Spratt phones Elizabeth that he is bringing Kessler, one of his new writers, for dinner the following night. Kessler, a German refugee who had been injured in the first war, was, unknown to the Herlongs, Elizabeth's first husband.

CHAPTER IV: Elizabeth had been orphaned as a baby and raised by her aunt and uncle in Tulsa. She had been sent away to college, but during one summer vacation she went out to the country club to swim. There she had met Arthur Kittredge.

CHAPTER V: Elizabeth and Arthur had many dates the following days—swimming, dancing and hiking. They found that they were meant for each other, and despite all objections were married. Then the United States entered the war, and Arthur enlisted. After less than a year of married life, Arthur was off to the war. Then came the wire that Arthur was killed in action.

CHAPTER VI: Elizabeth refused the pension. She then determined to leave Tulsa, to try and realize that Arthur was dead, and she must start a new life. She sold or gave away everything that would remind her of the life she had lived with Arthur.

CHAPTER VII: Elizabeth and Spratt were soon spending several evenings a week together. She told him about Arthur. Spratt understood her feelings. He asked Elizabeth to marry him.

CHAPTER IX: Spratt was delayed for dinner. Cherry and Dick had invited Julia and Pudge, and were anxious to be off on a date. Elizabeth informed them that Kessler and his daughter would be there for dinner the following night and that Dick would have to entertain Kessler's daughter after dinner.

CHAPTER X: Arthur had not died. Seriously wounded and disfigured, he was taken in hand by Dr. Jacoby. He assumed the name of Kessler, and let the world believe that Arthur Kittredge was dead.

The four youngsters gave long simultaneous whistles. "Oh joy, oh rapture unconfined!" sang Dick. "My life is renewed. I don't have to! Did you hear, everybody? She's eight years old! Why didn't you tell me? What were you doing talking about Russia when all the time you knew that girl was eight years old? Me sitting up here dying and you've got to bring up Russia!"

Elizabeth got out of the room ahead of Spratt and ran up the stairs. He followed her. When he came into his bedroom he found her crumpled up in his reading chair. She was laughing uncontrollably.

Spratt stood watching her in amazement. "Elizabeth, what in the world is the matter with you?"

For a moment she could not answer. With an effort she caught her breath, saying, "N—nothing. Only I think—I think that for the first time in my life I've nearly had hysterics."

"Elizabeth, what—"

"Please don't pay any attention to me. I'm behaving like a moron. But it is funny, Spratt. We're sitting on the edge of a volcano dangling our legs over the crater, and Dick knows it—I've just heard him talking, so grim and hard he frightened me, and in fifteen minutes nothing was important to him except that that German girl was eight years old and he didn't have to take her out. Oh, that resilience! Did I ever have it, I wonder?" She began to laugh again, this time more softly. Spratt shrugged, went into the bathroom and turned on the water. When he came out Elizabeth, having made herself be quiet, was wiping her eyes.

Spratt stood over her, shaking his head in confusion. "Did anything happen this afternoon, Elizabeth? You can tell me."

"Not a thing. I came home and got dressed for dinner and lay on the chaise-longue in my room till it was time to get out the cocktails." She stood up. "I'm sorry for being so foolish, Spratt. But every now and then—well, maybe sometimes you've got to laugh so you won't scream."

"All right," said Spratt, "leave it at that." He never pressed her for explanations, knowing if there was anything she intended to explain he would get it eventually without asking. "You'd better go and do something to your face. You've laughed and cried it streaky."

"All right, I will." Slipping her hands into his, she stood up. "And thank you for being such a calm person. Most men would either have called me a fool or asked a thousand questions."

With an expression of mingled sympathy and amusement, Spratt kissed her. "You're not a fool. Incidentally, you look mighty well in that outfit."

"It's the hostess gown you gave me," Elizabeth reminded him as she went into her room to obliterate the tracks on her face.

Spratt was waiting at the head of the stairs. She smiled at him reassuringly and they started down, and he smiled back. They went in to dinner with the others.

"Oh boy," said Dick as they sat down. "Shrimps to start with. I love 'em."

"So do I," said Spratt, and ate the first one. "Quite a sauce, Elizabeth," he observed. "A decent writer on that picture for a change, and a good dinner—" He grinned at his offspring. "What have the millionaires got that we haven't got?"

"Dyspepsia," said Dick.

At half-past four the following afternoon, Spratt was winding up another conference with the new writer who had come from Germany. Spratt pushed his chair back from his desk and grinned at his colleague.

"That's all for the present, Kessler. We can go into more detail tonight after dinner. And you'll start writing the story treatment in the morning?"

"Yes, Mr. Herlong." The new writer smiled back, and though his heavy dark beard emphasized his foreignness to this American office and his customary dignity was such that his smile, unlike Spratt's, could hardly be called a grin, he conveyed his acknowledgment of the comradeship that springs up swiftly when two workers discover they can work together. "When you will read the synopsis—I am sorry, the treatment—you will forgive my awkwardness with the language?"

Spratt chuckled. "In the first place, your language is very rarely awkward, and in the second place I can get a dozen writers who know English grammar for one who can tell a story. I don't mind saying, Kessler, you took a load off my shoulders in our conference yesterday. You understand stories—I wish you could tell me how to make all these English grammar writers understand them."

"Perhaps it is only sometimes viewing situations as other people would view them, and not entirely from the unchanging viewpoint of one's self."

"Am I supposed to tell that to the inhabitants of this ego-ridden capital?" Spratt laughed ruefully and shook his head. "Yes, Lydia?" he said as his secretary came in.

"The art department has sent down the sketches of the bedroom and living room sets. Do you want to see them now or are you and Mr. Kessler still in conference?" She glanced toward Spratt's visitor with the respect she gave anybody whose ideas came to the rescue of a befuddled script.

Farewell Meeting Of Officers of O. E. S. To Be Held Nov. 18

(By Ardith Jennings)

The session of Point Loma chapter No. 490, O. E. S., next Monday evening, November 18, will witness Worthy Matron Jeannette Croft Hendrickson and her husband Paul A. Hendrickson, worthy patron, occupying their respective stations for the last time.

With regret the membership of Point Loma chapter bids farewell to these two outstanding people. During their tenure of office, the chapter has grown amazingly and attendance has been large. They have given unstintingly of time and energy and have set an example of leadership that will be an inspiration for those following after.

Bernice Bull and Gladys Nelson will be in charge of the after-chapter party November 18, and it is expected that Mae C. Ahrens, deputy grand matron, will be present.

In welcoming Jeannette and Paul Hendrickson to the sidelines, it is hoped that they will continue their keen interest in the welfare of the Order of the Eastern Star in general and that of Point Loma chapter in particular.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Mounts of Elsinore, Calif., visited with Mrs. Mounts parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Hughes of 4969 West Point Loma Blvd., over the double holiday. Mr. Mounts has just finished a book which has been purchased by the Doubleday-Doran Publishing company.

LET'S WORK TOGETHER

Now that the shouting has died (and the pouting too, we hope) it's possible to look over the State and National political landscape with a calmer eye and observe just what the full results of the great ballot whirlwind are and what they are likely to mean in the next two years.

Quite obviously we have reached the virtual end of one political cycle and have started on another. And unless the tradition of many decades is broken in 1948 the Republicans appear certain to follow up their congressional victory by taking over the White House too.

How President Truman and the G. O. P.-dominated Congress will get along remains to be seen. But in the interests of the national welfare both Congress and the President should seek to work together. To do this Mr. Truman may be called upon to accept—or, at least, not to veto—some legislation which he does not personally favor. Since the Republicans, however, have just received a mandate from the people he should be willing to go along with them, at least to a reasonable degree.

At the same time, Republicans should recognize that their triumph at the polls was primarily a protest against the party in power. It's now up to them to come forward with a sound program and to justify the responsibility which has been placed on their shoulders.

As for California, the voters have shown that the heavy Democratic registration means little. The margins by which they elected G. O. P. candidates to all the top offices left no doubt that they were fully in accord with the national trend.

With the results of the voting now clearly determined all citizens, regardless of party, should join together wholeheartedly to achieve what is best for the State and for the Nation.

Let us not forget that we are Americans first. Party membership is decidedly of secondary importance.

INTELLIGENT DECISIONS

California voters left little doubt as to how they felt on the most important issues which appeared on the State ballot.

Their overwhelming approval of the $2400 annual minimum salary for school teachers was a clear acknowledgment of the danger confronting our State public school system due to the low pay in that field. The boost in salary level should now attract more high-caliber instructors.

The whopping defeat of the dog racing issue showed that the public was not fooled by the attempt to put the measure over by attaching a provision for disabled veterans' benefits.

The 3-to-1 approval of the $100 million bond issue to aid ex-servicemen in the purchase of homes and farms came as no surprise. This now makes further State aid available to them in addition to the liberal assistance provided under the G. I. Bill. In turning down the proposal for business loan to vets, however, the people obviously felt that there was no need of further augmenting the ample lending facilities of California's banking system which has made loans to many thousands of veterans for a wide variety of purposes.

The top-heavy rejection of the Fair Employment Practices measure was quite evidently more a disapproval of the way the bill was drawn than of the basic idea of non-discrimination because of race or color.

The voters also came very definitely to the conclusion that the State Legislature and the State budget should be placed on an annual, rather than a biennial basis. This change should prove beneficial. California is too large and populous a state to longer operate the legislature on a biennial basis.

It is apparent that most Californians gave careful thought to the issues before them. That's why they arrived at such intelligent decisions.

CAPSULE PHILOSOPHY

I care not what your place may be,
A job that's most laborious
With very little salary—
Or one that's large and glorious.
Yet, be your labor large or small,
Of this you must be sensible:
Some other chap can do it all.
. . . No man is indispensable.

CAPSULE ESSAY

I am a little thing with a famous reputation. I help everybody. I open hearts, unlock doors and drive away prejudices. I create friendship and goodwill. I inspire respect and admiration. Everybody loves me.

I bore nobody. I violate no law. I cost nothing. Many have praised me but none has condemned me. I am always pleasing to everyone. I am useful every moment of the day.

I am COURTESY.

STATE COLLEGE NEWS

(By Claire Hollobaugh)

Li'l Abner really was caught by Daisy May during State College's celebration of Sadie Hawkin's Day last November 7. And among those Ocean Beach students present was Carmen Price of 1775 Ebers St. who presented the championship chariot race cup to the sophomore class, the winners of the chariot race. Mildred Van Gessel of 4963 Long Branch Ave. and Mary Olive Cobb of 3904 Wildwood Rd. were present at the Dogpatch feast. Rosamund Decker of 4928 Coronado spent the evening dancing with Eddie Brown.

Besides Nora Ingram of 4658 Adair, a State College firedancer, and varsity team men, "Big Jim" Davis of 5035 Brighton and Jess Bryant of 4956 Santa Cruz, those present at the slaughter of Loyola by State were Bob Brazell of 1054 Devonshire Dr., Bob Wedgewood of 1071 Sunset Cliffs Blvd., and Mildred Van Gessel.

Seen at the Point Loma-Coronado high school football game were Jack Hamlin of 4602 Narragansett, Jack Blackwell of 4655 Brighton and Bill Madigan of 4741 Niagara.

The recent Inter-sorority Pledge tea which took place at the San Diego Woman's club house brought a good representation from the Ocean Beach girls, including Viola Daly of 4222 Whittier, Carmen Price, Joan Swanson of 4431 Green St., Mildred Freakly of 4469 Santa Monica, Marty Jacobson of 4508 Granger, Irene Kimball of 4429 Muir, Jane Price of 4522 Brighton, Mildred Van Gessel and Ann Caraway of 4434 Montalvo. Nancy Williams of 1725 Sunset Cliffs Blvd. was one of the models at the tea.

The men's Greek letter organizations pledged several of our Ocean Beach men. Pledges to Phi Lamda Xi were Jack Blackwell, Jack Hamlin, Mat Hegerle of 1690 Cable St. and Bill Madigan. The Tau Delta Chi fraternity drew George Claspill of 4660 Newport and Daniel Robinson of 4656 Narragansett.

Present at the 14-to-0 gridiron defeat of the University of California by U. S. C. at L. A. Saturday were Nora Ingram and Rosamund Decker who left last Friday afternoon for the game.

Mary Jane Brazell of 1054 Devonshire Dr. is a pledge to Toastmistress, an organization on campus for girls interested in public speaking. Mary Jane also has been cast in the one-act play, "Sunny Morning."

In training for the coming basketball season are Billy Stone of 4602 Narragansett and Joe Tody of 4670 Santa Cruz.

Dwight Young of 4330 Coronado hiked to Hot Spring Mountain this past week-end along with Bob Cook of 4336 Del Monte and Melvin Wilson.

Members of the "Tire Iron Losers," an abalone diving club, are Bob Oversmith of 1121 Savoy and Bob Wedgewood. Bob Oversmith was skiing in Cuyamaca last week-end.

Dale Cooksy of 4860 Santa Cruz is working with the team for the State College Rowing club.

Chartering a bus for the coming Santa Barbara football game are Ann Caraway, Eveline Barclay of 4685 Larskpur, Barbara Lawrence of 4718 Poe St. and Amelia Bruce of 3804 Bernice Dr.

Viola Daly has recently joined the El Club Azteca, a club for Spanish speaking students on Campus.

Dancing to Bob Crosby last week-end were Aztecs Marty Jacobson with Jim Moran, and Dick Odom of 737 Sunset Cliffs Blvd. with Joan Hollobaugh.

Mildred Freakly was seen dining and dancing at Camp Kidd this past week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Gomer Sizemore and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sizemore drove up to the Laguna mountains the past week-end to see the snow. The two Mrs. Sizemores are employed at Lownes Department store.

The Army Ground Forces offers you
A NEW LIFE OUT THERE

Look toward Korea and Japan! A thrilling new job and a new life—with interesting work, sports, entertainment and travel opportunities—can be had for the asking by qualified young men who volunteer for the 1st Cavalry, 11th Airborne, 6th, 7th, 24th or 25th Infantry Divisions.

What an opportunity . . . what a job! Training in one of these crack units will stand you in good stead wherever you go. Study a foreign language. Learn the fascinating details of Military Government—so vital to future peace and prosperity.

Japan's "Isles of Pines" are but a sample of the attractions of an Army career in the Far East. The Army has reopened comfortable hotels, theaters, swimming pools, tennis clubs, golf courses, ball parks. These — familiar haunts of pre-war tourists — and many new developments — provide a broad choice of recreation.

Not everyone can measure up to this job. Only 3-year enlistees who meet prescribed physical and mental standards can enjoy the benefits of such a job. High overseas pay, good food and lodging and a generous retirement plan make your future in the Army Ground Forces too good to miss! See your nearest Army Recruiting Officer for full details.

• Listen to: "Sound Off," "Warriors of Peace," "Voice of the Army," "Proudly We Hail," and Major Football Broadcasts on your radio.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Mickie Fauchald of 4862 Voltaire returned Tuesday from a 10-day vacation trip to San Francisco, Oakland and other northern California points.

Mrs. L. A. McNutt of Del Rio, Texas, arrived here Thursday of last week for a visit of several weeks with her mother, Mrs. Emma Barnhart, and her sister, Mrs. Gladys Wilcox, both of 4931 Niagara Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hammond, their daughter Anne and son Don Roy visited at the home of Mr. Hammond's brother, Lee Hammond, in Redondo Beach over the week-end. Lee Hammond is principal of one of the Redondo Beach schools. The Hammonds returned to their home, 4485 Pescadero Ave., Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Myers of 1638 Sunset Cliffs Blvd. have been hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hoobing, who are the parents of Mrs. Myers, for the past month. All spent one week-end in Los Angeles while the Hoobings were here, attending radio programs such as "Queen for a Day" and "Glamour Manor."

"Twink," 6-year-old black toy Pomeranian, announces the arrival of six tiny pups born on October 29. These pups, four white and two black and their mother belong to Mrs. Juanita Secor of 4145 Voltaire St. and the oddity in this case is the fact that Pomeranians seldom have as many as six pups in a litter, reports Mrs. Secor.

The four-day turkey festival held in Hemet, Calif., last weekend was attended by three Ocean Beach couples, who drove over there together. They were Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Spikes of Sunset Cliffs Blvd., Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Smith of Devonshire Dr. and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Myers of Sunset Cliffs Blvd.

Sherman Pethley of 4145 Voltaire St. was one of the musicians in a bagpipe band in the Armistice day parade in El Cajon Monday staged by the Veterans. The San Diego daily showed pictures of the parade in the Tuesday morning edition and Mr. Pethley was in evidence in his full Scottish attire.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Johnson of Lincoln, Neb., were visitors at the home of Mrs. Blanda Youngquist of 4856 Niagara Ave. for several days this week. The Johnsons are old friends of Mrs. Youngquist. Mr. Johnson is attorney general of the state of Nebraska and is in California to attend the attorney generals' convention in Los Angeles.

Tom Plant of West Point Loma Blvd. arrived home Tuesday from his annual pheasant hunting trip to Utah and Idaho. At Richmond, Utah, his brother joined him for the hunting. He also hunted the birds in Idaho across the state line from Richmond. Tom reports an unusual amount of snow for this time of the year in that part of the Rocky mountain area.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Byron Wilcox, formerly of Ocean Beach, are the parents of a baby girl, their first child, born November 6, in Riverside hospital, Susanville, Calif. The little miss is a granddaughter of Mrs. Gladys Wilcox of 4931 Niagara Ave. Earl and wife left here about three months ago for Susanville, where he is engaged in painting work. They are planning, however, to return later to Ocean Beach.

Community Chest Donations Here Now Up to $2310 Total

Citizens of the local area, which is No. 6, have contributed $2310, or 26 per cent of a $13,510 quota, to the current Community Chest-U. S. O. fund-raising campaign, Mrs. Walter Hepner, local chairman for the appeal, reported today.

Her report followed Friday's luncheon meeting at the U. S. Grant hotel of drive leaders and volunteer workers, who learned that the campaign as a whole stood at better than the one-third mark, with $256,392.11 in collections reported, 38.4 per cent of the $667,915 goal.

The meeting was attended by Mrs. Thomas P. Faulconer of Old Town, district chairman, representing Mrs. Hepner, who was unable to attend, and by several others from this district, which extends through as far as Old Town.

Milton Lancaster, co-chairman of the Ocean Beach district, stated Tuesday that he was unable to attend the report-luncheon meeting, but reported that the workers under him are out making the canvas. A considerable portion of the area remains to be covered, however, he says. Since the drive runs until November 28, indications are that the local district will have considerably more donations to report before the campaign ends.

Word was received this week by The News of the marriage in Boise, Idaho, of Elizabeth Ann Glenn and Adam John "Bud" Shubert. The couple will make their home in Gooding, Idaho.
